

Creating better experiences for older adults and the disabled community

Are you looking for ways to advocate for yourself to positively shift mindsets, communication, inclusion, and treatment?

VisitAble is updating its Disability Awareness and Inclusion training, and we strongly believe that our training should be made by sharing authentic experiences and self-advocacy directly from older adults and people with disabilities.

We could really use your help! Please share your voice by taking one or more of our surveys, linked below:

- Older Adults Survey
